Typography might just help you date, solve obesity and impact your mood; so we've learnt from type fanatic Sarah Hyndman. We've previously dubbed her "the one woman tour-de-force behind the Type Tasting enterprise", which looks at the power typography has over our lives and senses.

Why Fonts Matter, and how they impact your mood

The classic answer would be: sans-serif fonts for titles, headings, and serif fonts for the content. Used as a pair, the two types of fonts ensure the needed contrast. But even so, you must be very careful so that the result doesn't look odd or exaggerated. Imagine a combination between the Old Style and a geometrical Sans.

The font you use affects your audience's perception of your brand before they ever have a real interaction with your brand. As soon as a person sees your logo, they'll form an instant idea of how your business behaves. When your audience reads your content, their eyes follow a scanpath. A scanpath is a pattern that comes naturally to humans.
